An entrepreneur is a person who creates something from nothing, a person who knows how to make something available for people who will buy it to improve their lives. Creating is not an easy task. Creating requires many activities, good habits and desire to create. As an entrepreneur you are the creator, you create customer’s happiness and satisfaction, you create employee satisfaction and happiness. As a creator, you will need many good practices and habits that can be implemented in your everyday work.

Here are 10 habits of successful entrepreneurs as persons who create something from nothing:

1. They have a clearly defined vision: You need to know where you want to be and what you want to achieve. Your vision is something that should be deeply rooted in you. If you don’t have a clear vision, you will not know where you need to move your business, and you can’t have followers who can help you to realize your vision.

2. They set up and adjust their goals: Vision is not enough to ensure entrepreneurial success, it only shows you where you want to be in the future while goals on the other hand will show you how to get there. Good habit is to set goals in accordance with the vision.

3. They are focused on achieving their goals: Focus is the third habit that contributes to the success of an entrepreneur. Without adequate focus, too many goals, activities or tasks are a sure path to failure.

4. They set deadlines: Goals can’t be realized timely without deadlines. It is true that for everything you want to accomplish there is an enough time but one thing is quite clear when it comes to businesses, speed is one of the key features of success.

5. They plan ahead: Your goals should be divided into the tasks and activities that will be on a daily, weekly, and monthly basis. Try to make the whole number of daily tasks which you will maintain to be on the lowest possible level.

6. They prioritise their tasks: When you use the plan and a to-do list, you can never be sure that everything will be as you have already planned. There will be many new urgent tasks. However, don’t let the urgency to “hack” your time, use clear priorities.

7. They are persistent persons: Success requires overcoming many obstacles, solving many problems and avoiding many pitfalls. Success is not the result of chance, success is the result of work, experimentation, mistakes, failures. You have to be persistent if you want to actualize your vision.

8. They learn continuously: Knowledge is an important feature of an entrepreneur, knowledge is not static which means that what today is true or enough, may be invalid tomorrow. Thus, learning is an important habit of entrepreneurs and you need to ensure continuous learning about your business and outside your field as well.
9. They are not afraid to take action: Action begets reaction. You will not have measures that would tell you whether you are right or wrong, you can’t know if you need something to change and what needs to change, you just have to take the first step.

10. They are not afraid to take a risk. Risk is an integral part in every aspect of our lives, so it is in business. Each of your actions will have a dose of potential risk but it should not be a reason for you to continue with maintaining status quo situations in your business.
