

Washington OER Hub

Open Licensing Checklist

Use this checklist to make sure your resource meets the requirements for open licensing. Be sure to review the checklist BEFORE you begin development work so that you are designing your resource with open licensing requirements in mind from the beginning.

Checklist

- All graphics (charts, pictures, clip art) are openly licensed or in the public domain.
- All written content is original, openly licensed, in the public domain, or you have obtained written permission to use.
- An attribution statement for each content element from a different source has been included. This attribution includes the title (if known), author, license and links to those items.

Example:

CK-12 Biology for High School by CK-12 is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 3.0 License.

Example -Shortened version:

CK-12 Biology for High School by CK-12 | CC BY NC

- Work is available in an editable format (a PDF may also be included).
- If your district holds copyright on staff-created work (most common), you have permission from your district to apply an open license.
- Choose the most flexible open license that does not conflict with the licenses that govern work you are including. Creative Commons Attribution License (CC BY) preferred.
- Open license text, icon, and associated links have been added to the document.

Example for Original Work:

Example Resource by Copyright Holder is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.

Example for Adapted Work:

Example Resource is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License. This is a derivative work by Jane Doe adapted from Original Resource Name by Original Creator.

- Link to lesson, unit, or course has been submitted or resource has been uploaded to or created on the Washington OER Hub.

Resources

Quickstart Guide to Openly Licensed Images and Attribution | OSPI

OER Development - Resource Tracking Template | OSPI

Copyright and Open Licensing Guide | OSPI

Sample Permissions Request Letter | OSPI

Best Practices in Attribution | Creative Commons

Open Attribution Builder | Open Washington - State Board for Community and Technical Colleges

Choose a License | Creative Commons

Download Creative Commons License Logos | Creative Commons

Important Terms

Copyright - the legal protection that gives the copyright owner the right to reproduce, adapt, distribute, display, and perform the work. Copyright covers both published and unpublished works. Works do not need to be registered.

Copyright licenses - outline the specific permissions and restrictions that a copyright holder grants to someone else.

Open License (e.g. Creative Commons) – a license that grants permission to access, re-use and redistribute a work with few or no restrictions

Attribution –giving credit to a person or organization as the creator or copyright holder of a work. All open licenses have an attribution requirement.

Citation - allows authors to provide the source of any quotations, ideas, and information that they include in their own work based on the copyrighted works of other authors.

Except where otherwise noted, this work by the Washington Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License. All logos and trademarks are property of their respective owners.

This document contains links to websites operated by third parties. These links are provided for your convenience only and do not constitute or imply any monitoring by OSPI. Please confirm the license status of any third-party resources and understand their terms of use before reusing them.

